THE DEATH OF SURGEON LOUIS P. SMITH.

Body to Be Brought Home From Manila-His Last Letter to His Father.

Lieut, Louis P. Smith, assistant surgeon U. S. A., died of septicaemia, at 6:50 o'clock a. m., yesterday, in the hospital at Manila, as stated in The Star yesterday. The announcement of the sad event was transmitted by cable by Gen. MacArthur to the War Department, and Adjutant General Corbin immediately informed Mr. F. H. Smith of No. 1418 F street northwest, the father of the dead officer. Lieut. Smith went to the Philippines a year ago last November, arriving there in December, and was assigned to duty with the 13th Infantry on the north coast of the Luzon, being stationed at Dagupan. He suffered an acute attack of appendicitis in October last, and, getting a little better, was taken to the hospital at Manila. He was desperately anxious to come home to the United States and have an operation performed by an eminent New York specialist, and applied for leave for that purpose, but was informed that the military authorities could not spare him and that he could be operated upon there.

His Last Letter.

The last letter received by Mr. F. H. Smith from his son was dated November 30 last, and was written at the First Reserve Hospital, Manila, In this he indicated his intention to undergo an operation, writing as follows:
"After recovering to a certain degree progress seems to have stopped, and I still use a cane to get around a bit, with intermittent attacks of fever and pain about my appendix.

"I hoped to obtain at least an ordinary leave to go to the United States for opera tion, but have had to entirely give up the idea, and while the facilities here for surgical work are not by any means all I could wish, the probable existence of an abdominal abscess makes it dangerous to delay operative interference. I expect, therefore, to be operated upon next Monday, which means, at the best, three weeks of confinement to bed. It is naturally a source of worry to Jessie and confoundedly annoying any way you look at it. Of course if the cable has not told you otherwise you may way you look at it. Of course if the expect me to be about again all right when you get this letter."

Smith naturally imagined that his son had successfully undergone the operation, and was awaiting a letter telling him so when the shocking news of the death reached him. The Jessie alluded to in the young man's letter was his wife, formerly Miss Jessie Nesbitt, daughter of Mr. D. M. Nesbitt of College Park, Md., who joined her husband in the Philippines immediately after he reached there, following by the first steamer leaving after he had departed.

An Already Brilliant Record. Lieutenant Smith was thirty years old, and was widely known in this city, where serving as secretary. Devotional exercises his boyhood and youth were passed. He were conducted by Rev. A. W. Shields, as- received his medical education at the Colsisted by Rev. G. W. Brown of Virginia. lege of Physicians and Surgeons of New York, and spent a post-graduate year in Vienna. He devoted a year to private practice in this city, and was then appointed, five years ago, an assistant surgeon in the army, with the rank of lieutenant. He was regarded as one of the most capable, efficient and valuable of the younger mem-bers of the medical corps of the army. He was a member of the Cuban expedi-tion, and the first man to land, going ashore with thirty men of the hospital service to build a shore hospital. He was at the front during the fights around Santiago, and came home on the first transport bringing wounded from the island. Upon his White, in a character sketch, "A Tramp's return he was given complete charge of the Story." Perry and Burns are the next to reconstruction of the general hospital on appear, and their specialty consists of some Bedloe's Island, and received unstitted amusing originalities in song gags. Perry praise for his work in this connection.

His career in the Philippines attracted the notice and inspired the warm admira-tion of his superiors in authority. Although an assistant surgeon, ranking as lieutenant, his duties have been those usually deinsane, without property or estate. Their names are Benjamin F. Walker, Wm. S. acting brigade surgeon while at Dagupan, as well as health officer of the port, and last year formulated the plans which were carried out with eminent success by which 250,000 natives were vaccinated.

Smith's body will be forwarded on the Sheridan, which will leave Manila tomorrow and is due in San Francisco the 9th or 10th of February. Mrs. Smith will come by the same steamer. AMUSEMENTS.

BERNHARDT - COQUELIN ENGAGE-MENT -The regular box office sale of seats for the Bernhardt-Coquelin performances at the National Theater next week will commence tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock. The requests for seats that have been received by mail are quite unprecedented in the annals of local theatrical Great interest is being manifested in the several productions that will be seen during the Bernhardt engagement, and par-ticularly that of "L'Aiglon." Inasmuch as Rostand had the French actress in his mind's eye when he wrote the piece, it is to be expected that the Bernhardt por-trayal of the pathetic little Duke of Reichstadt will offer many points of difference from that now being given on the National stage by Miss Adams. "L'Aiglon" will be presented on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee, while on Thursday night Sardou's masterpiece, "La Tosca," will be performed. On Friday night Shakespeare's "Hamlet," with Sarah Benhardt as the Denish prince and Sarah Bernhardt as the Danish prince, and Constant Coquelin as the gravedigger will be the bill. The Saturday matinee will be mille), and the concluding performance of the week will be Rostand's original "Cyra-no de Bergerac," with M. Coquelin in the principal role and Mme. Bernhardt as Rox-

It is worthy of note that the length of the performances next week is such as to ne-cessitate the rise of the curtain at 8 o'clock sharp on each evening.

LULU GLASER IN "SWEET ANNE PAGE."—The sale of seats and boxes for Miss Lulu Glaser and her company in "Sweet Anne Page," which has just finish-ed a successful New York engagement. opens in the morning at the box office of the Columbia and regular prices will pre-vail. There will be matiness on Thursday and Saturday. "Sweet Anne Page," the and Saturday. "Sweet Anne Page," the vehicle which is used to exploit Miss Glaser as a star, is the joint work of Louis De Lange, Edgar Smith and W. H. Neidlinger, Lange, Edgar Smith and W. H. Neidlinger, and it is said that the opera offers Miss Glaser splendid opportunity for the display of her talents. Miss Glaser is known to all patrons of high-class comic opera as having been the prima donna soubrette of the Francis Wilson Opera Company for a number of years, and, in fact, she was a co-star with the comedian. The music of "Sweet" with the comedian. The music of "Sweet Anne Page" is of a jingly sort that sets a town humming and whistling. This is a true test of the popularity of an opera. W. H. "FROU FROU" BY THE LAFAYETTE COMPANY.—Patrons of the Lafayette Square Stock Company will next week have Burke, came along and struck the wagon, throwing out the occupants. Robert Anderson's leg was painfully injured and his an emotional role in one of the strongest brother's thumb was dislocated. The horse and most popular dramas written in many years. The play is "Frou Frou," by Du-mas, originally produced in this country by Hortense Rhea, and since then included in the repertory of many prominent feminine stars. It is a comparative novelty, especially at popular prices. The role is an exacting one, but those who know Miss Haswell's talents need not be assured that she will give a charming and impressive creation. The story of "Frou Frou" treats of two sisters. The younger one-nicknamed Frou Frou-volatile, impressive bigs to the story of the st one—nicknamed Frou Frou—volatile, impetuous, high-strung and dashing, is beloved by a young man, who, in proposing for the girl's hand, so words his proposition that the elder sister, the girl's guardian, believes that he is in love with her. As she had secretly loved the man, it is a sacrifice to surrender her sister, but she does it, and the flighty Frou Frou marries POLITE VAUDEVILLE.—Marshall P. Wilder, the embodiment of fun and good is the headline attraction for the nature New Grand next week, when Manager Chase celebrates the second anniversary of the introduction of polite vaudeville to Washington. The celebration will continue throughout the week and each performance, it is promised, will be a gala occasion in honor of the important event. Marshall Wilder is seldom seen nowadays outside of London and New York, for he has regular engagements in both cities during each season. There is no one today who has won so good a place in the public eye in so short a while as Wilder. He is a born His repertory is inexhaustible, and he adds to it day by day by studies from life. Many an after-dinner speaker has won himself title of "rare, good fellow" by quoting the native wit of Wilder. Additional stars of first water rank in vaude ville have been engaged. McIntyre and Heath, the far-famed "Georgia Minstrels," will be heard in their latest sketch, "The Man From Montana," which is said to be the equal of its predecessor, and, therefore, needs no further commendation. A novelty is presented by the vivacious attle comedienne Patrice in an elaborate production of "The Girl in the Moon," which has been termed "A Broadway pro-duction in vaudeville." Other features are: The Three Yoscarrys, acrobats, especially engaged for this country by Messrs. Keith and Chase for their circuit of houses; Musical Dale, the "king of bell ringers;" John D. Gilbert, the popular humorist and comedian; Josie and Willie Barrows, society dancers, and Sophia Burnham, the sweetvoiced soprano.

"SUPERBA." — Commencing next Monday, January 14, the Hanlons will present their annual new version of their well and favorably remembered spectacular pantomime, "Superba," at the Academy of Music. This means that the scenery is new throughout, a majority of the old pantomime tricks have been superseded by new ones, new specialists appear and new ballets and some beautiful transformations will be viewed for the first time in this city. In this connection "The Gates of is perhaps the most strikingly This artistic series of stage beautiful. pictures is from designs by T. V. Smythe and executed by Gates & Morange in their best vein. It is an unfolding of a varied set of drops and mechanical effects, commencing with a weird effect of a group of three men described by a seer as inhab-itants of the planet Mars. The new first act, representing a scene at the Paris exposition, is regarded as the best and most amusing bit of pantomime the Hanlons have yet done. The gendarme, the impor-tunate, Garcon, the artisan; the student and the frequenter of the Latin quarter all furnish their quota of fun.

LITTLE EGYPT BURLESQUERS.—A return visit of the "Little Egypt" burlesquers is announced by the Bijou management for next week. There has been engaged as an extra attraction the famous troupe of Arabs known as Hassen Ben Ali's troupe of Toozoonir Arabs, An olio of nov-elties is contributed by Mae Taylor, seriocomic singer; Rawson and Baisley, present-ing their new sketch, "Any Port in a Storm;" Al. C. Lawrence, imitator; the Irish kings, Markey and Stewart, in their satire entitled "Wit and Humor," and the sisters De Graff, in "The Poetry of Motion." The wind-up of the entertainment is a skit entitled "Forbidden Fruit." There are twenty chorus girls, and "Little Egypt' will introduce her oriental dance.

KERNAN'S LYCEUM THEATER. -Commencing next Monday afternoon at Kernan's Harry Bryant's "Australian Burlesquers" will be the attraction. The performance opens with a grand first part, new scenery, with novel electrical effects and elegant costumes. In the olio which follows are: Charles Bryant and Gus Sa-ville, the musical merchants. Next comes that favorite young comedian, Tommy, Nolan, assisted by his fair partner, Cora and Hyland give a high-class singing and dancing specialty, and Leo and Chapman will produce their original laughing hit, "Circus Day in Reubenville." The olio will close with an act by the jugglers, Kennedy

SOUSA'S BAND .- Sousa is on a tour of this continent again, with his band and soloists, and will be here in concert on next Sunday night at the New National Theater. Just before starting he gave a series of concerts in New York, and in every case to an immense audience. The Sousa tours are likely to continue indefinitely. The present is the eighteenth semi-annual, and fifth transcontinental tour. The band, just returned from a triumphant season in Europe, is in fine fettle after a rest in New York, and is making a new record for itself. The program for the concert here will be especially attracprano: Bertha Bucklin, violinist, and Arthur Pryor, trombone. The sale of seats began

PL...ION BROUNOFF'S LECTURE RE-CITAL.—To-night at Luther Memorial Church Platon Brounoff will give his fam-ous lecture recital on Russian life and music. He has completely recovered from his recent illness and feels fresh again in way that the audience listens breathlessly from first to last. Not since George Kennan has there been anything so distinctly Russian. In fact, there is not in all America another such personality as Brounoff in this particular field. He will also be heard in several selections from the chefs d'oeuvre of Russian composers. His beautiful baritone voice has been the feature of many concerts, and his piano playing is said to be finished and sympathetic, showing the tutorship of Rubinstein and Tschaikowski. He will have the assistance of a string quartet, formed by Miss Florence Stevens, Miss Marie Baspianelli, Mr. clarence Whitmore and Mr. Ernest Lent. The latter will also give some Russian compositions for violoncello solo. Altogether, so many instructive and entertaining features are com-bined on this occasion, that it will long be remembered as one of the most delightful

VILLAINOUS ASSAULT.

Colored Man. Miss Mary Roth, living at 234 12th street southeast, was assaulted and seriously injured last night by a young colored man. She was wearing eyeglasses, and the highwayman struck her with his fist, breaking the glasses, broken pieces of which cut her face and eyes. One eye is seriously hurt,

The assault was committed on 11th street southeast between South Carolina avenue and C street, about 9 o'clock. Miss Roth was on her way home when the colored man suddenly appeared and struck her, the force of the blow knocking her down. Before the highwayman could rob her she made an outcry and frightened him off. Soon afterward the police of the fifth precinct were notified, and the case was also reported to the detectives. Miss Roth described her assailant as being about tweny-one years old, with brown skin. He wore light suit of clothes, brown Fedora hat and light overcoat.

There was a similar assault committed in Southeast Washington Saturday night, in which a young lady was roughly handled, and the police believe the same man com-mitted both. A number of such crimes have occurred in Southeast Washington, and the police have been kept busy making investigations. Several persons have been arrested on suspicion, but the perpetrator has so far eluded the officers.

Anthropological Society Election. The Anthropological Society held its regular annual meeting last night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Prof. Holmes, head curator of anthropology in the National Museum; general secretary, Mrs. Hannah L. Bartlett; treasurer, Perry Benjamin Pierce; curator, Mrs. M. P. Seaman, and councilor, Miss L. S. Fletcher. A number of amendments relating to the election of officers and mem bers created a lively debate, but were de feated. The report of the secretary and treasurer showed the society in a financial good standing and prosperous. The society has about 200 members on its roll.

No disease makes a person feel older.
It stiffens the joints, produces lameness, and makes every motion painful.
It is sometimes so bad as wholly to disable, and it should never be neglected.
Elsie B. Kirk, Box 247, Montezuma, Iowa, had it in her hips and limbs so that she could not sleep; Mrs. Hattle Turner, Bolivar, Mo., had it so severely she could not lift anything and could scarcely get up or down stairs; W. H. Shepard, Sandy Hook, Conn., was laid up with it, was cold even in July, and could not dress himself.
According to testimonials voluntarily given, these sufferers were permanently relieved, as thousands have been, by Hood's Sarsaparilla which corrects the acidity of the blood, on which rheumatism depends.
